School:

Your school is soon to have an inspection, and inspectors will want to know your views about the school. You may wish to complete this questionnaire, but it is up to you whether you do or not. You may like to present your views in another form. Your answers are private and only the inspectors will read what you have written. They will read all of the questionnaires and use the responses to explore issues during the inspection. Your school will tell you about the arrangements for collecting your completed questionnaires.

How old are you?

What year are you in?
